

GEOMANCY: CONSCIOUSNESS AND SACRED SITES

Featuring: John Steele

Directed by Vakasha Brenman

Following a 12-year exploration of sacred sites in the British Isles, John Steele developed his “a rchaeology of the mind

”, a new science based on the ancient wisdom of Geomancy, our conscious interaction with the earth tradition which we inhabit and which gives us life. In the ancient tradition the earth itself was a living organism. Today we suffer from Geomantic Amnesia, forgetting that our planet is interactive with and responsive to consciousness.

In this video John Steele teaches us how we have come to forget who we are, how we can awaken, truly remember, and so change our lives. In fascinating detail he explains memory, time, Gaia, sacred geometry, the four great ages or yugas, the levels of consciousness, double forgetting and double remembering, and presents a unique project for heightening sensory and mental self-awareness through New Age Education.

John Steele was a visiting lecturer in Archaeology at the School of Environmental Studies, University of London. Co-founder with Paul Devereux of the

Dragon Project

, a 10-year investigation of subtle earth energies, such as geomagnetism, radioactivity and ultrasonics, at sacred sites.
